LIBERAL PARTY LOSES IN THE ELECTION.

Returns as Far as Received Showed Remarkable Victories—Great Honors For Composer Strauss—Czar's Ailment Has Probably Affected His Liver.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 15.—From the returns now in, it appears the liberals lost 31 seats to the socialists.

Honors for Composer Strauss.

VIENNA, Oct. 15.—The festivities in connection with the Strauss jubilee were continued yesterday. The composer received a great number of congratulatory visits, letters and telegrams. In addition he received many presents from persons prominent in the art and music worlds at home and abroad. At noon a grand concert was given by the members of the Royal Opera orchestra, the Philharmonic society, the Vienna Male choir and a number of soloists. In the evening there was a brilliant promenade concert, arranged by Edward Strauss, the composer's brother. At both concerts the program was entirely made up of music composed by Johann Strauss. The reception given to the great composer was most enthusiastic. Similar concerts were given at Prague and elsewhere.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—A dispatch to the Chronicle from Vienna says the scenes at the opera house Saturday and at the concerts yesterday were of unparalleled enthusiasm. There was hardly a writer, actor or musician in Europe who did not send a gift. Strauss' splendid home is already a museum and it will require a new building to display the magnificent presents he has received. The actual jubilee occurs to-day, which is the anniversary of the first time Strauss conducted his band in the Dommayer Garden at Heitzing in 1844.

Cancer or Inflammation of Kidneys.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—According to the Lokal Anzeiger a Vienna physician, who is fully informed by St. Petersburg doctors, says the diagnosis of the czar's complaint wavers between cancer in the renal region and inflammation of the kidneys. All the doctors agree, however, that the end will be neither speedy nor sudden, but that death will come after a gradual decline.

LOURENÇO MARQUEZ, Oct. 15.—The rebellious Kaffirs in great force attacked this town yesterday, but were repulsed. A renewal of the attack is expected at any moment. The situation is serious, as the force defending the place is not sufficient to make a prolonged resistance.

TWO TRAINS MEET AT A CROSSING

Excursionists Injured in Louisiana Through Carelessness.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 15.—Engineer Simpson of the East Louisiana railroad is responsible for a frightful accident that occurred yesterday morning at the crossing of the Louisville & Nashville and the Northeastern roads, about two miles from where the Louisville & Nashville road leaves Elysian Fields street—an accident that will, in all probability, result in at least one fatality, while a score of passengers on the Louisville & Nashville railroad received severe injuries.

The injured:

CARAMBAT, MRS. FRANK, injured severely about the side.

CAREY, ROBERT, sugar broker; left leg broken and head cut.

COSA, MRS. A. S., badly bruised.

COUCHNEY, S. C., head slightly injured.

EVANS, E. J., slightly cut about the face.

LEE, ANDREW, contusion of the neck.

LEHMAN, Mr. severely hurt about head.

MCDONNELL, M., badly bruised about the left side of the head and right arm.

McKEEMAN, R. L., of Biloxi, slightly hurt.

MUIR, MRS. JULIA, left leg and ankle injured and severe scalp wounds.

SHARP, ELLA, niece of Mrs. Carambat, contusion of the neck.

YOUNGER, C. S., bruised about the body.

SON OF GEN. A. S. BADGER, badly hurt.

A small boy was seriously hurt about the head, but immediately after the wreck he left the scene in charge of his father.

The Louisville & Nashville "across the lake" excursion train, consisting of eight coaches well loaded with pleasure-seekers, a large proportion of them being women and children, pulled out on time. As the train approached the crossing of the Northeastern tracks Engineer Hanley brought his train to a stop and whistled, as the law requires. He then gave the signal to go ahead and proceed across the tracks of the Northeastern. The East Louisiana train, carrying excursionists to points in Saint Tammany parish, was booming along its tracks, and with a shrill shriek from its whistle for "down brakes" it crashed into the sixth coach of the Louisville & Nashville train. The collision threw a crowded coach completely into the ditch, while the tacking engine was derailed and buried its nose several feet in the soft mud. Passengers on the East Louisiana train were uninjured except for the shock of the collision. Not so with the coast excursion, however. Just before the iron monster struck the coach several of the passengers saw it coming and a panic ensued. There was a wild rush to escape from the doomed coach, but before one of the passengers could reach either platform the approaching engine had struck and the coach, with its living freight, was hurled from the tracks into the ditch.

Women and children shrieked in their terror, while men fought their way blindly for some escape from the coach. Seats were torn up and hurled in every direction by the force of the collision, and after the first wild panic had subsided there were piteous moans from different quarters of the wreck telling of painful injuries. Willing hands went to work, and within a short time the wounded ones had been taken from the coach and made as comfortable as circumstances would permit. The greatest indignation and anger prevailed among the witnesses of the collision against Engineer Simpson, who had ruthlessly disregarded the law requiring him to stop and whose negligence caused the frightful wreck. Inquiry developed the fact that Simpson had escaped to the swamp. A section foreman on his hand car brought the news of the collision to the city, and the northeastern officials dispatched a special train to convey the injured to the city.

JENKINS WILL NOT THROW OUT OAKES

NORTHERN PACIFIC RECEIVER NOT TO BE OUSTED.

Petition of the Stock Holders For a Change of Administration Refused—Thorough Investigation of Western Deals Made By Suspicious Investors—Wyoming Frauds.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 15.—Judge Jenkins today dismissed the petition to remove Oakes from the receivership of the Northern Pacific on petition of dissatisfied stock-holders.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 15.—A special from Cheyenne, Wyo., says: A gigantic land fraud has been uncovered here. It is in connection with the purchase of a tract of 546 acres of land adjoining the city by a syndicate of eastern investors. In 1890 the Wyoming Land syndicate was changed to the Wyoming company, and J. F. Moffet of the firm of Moffet, Hodges & Clark, water works contractors of Syracuse, N. Y.; J. M. Whitney, a real estate broker of Denver, and C. B. Davis of Chicago, were elected president, secretary and treasurer of the company. J. A. Hood, treasurer of the Syracuse Savings bank, who is out $7,500 on account of his investment in the enterprise, arrived to-day to look up evidence to begin prosecution of Whitney and Moffet, who he claims have victimized the shareholders out of $50,000. Mr. Hood says that Whitney came to his office in Syracuse ostensibly to sell him property in Denver. In the course of conversation Whitney mentioned that he knew of a tract of land in the vicinity of Cheyenne that could be purchased for $250 an acre, which he represented as a nominal price. It was agreed that Whitney and Moffet should come to Cheyenne to look over the property and if satisfactory close the deal. They reported that the property could be purchased for $90,000.

ONLY EIGHT DWELLINGS LEFT.

Town of Chester Hill, Ohio, Almost Wiped Out by Fire.

ZANESVILLE, Ohio, Oct. 15.—Almost the entire town of Chester Hill, in the western portion of Morgan county, is in ashes. At an early hour yesterday morning a fire started in the center of the town and could not be extinguished until every block in the town was destroyed with the exception of eight dwelling houses and one or two outhouses. The entire population turned out and worked heroically to stay the ravages of the flames, but the water gave out, and they were powerless in the face of a strong wind which was blowing at the time. The loss is estimated at $80,000. There were some narrow escapes, and it is thought that Mrs. Randall and babe perished, as they were alone at home and have not been seen since the fire. The insurance on all the property will not amount to $25,000. The origin of the fire is a mystery, but the impression is that it was incendiary. The town is surrounded by a rich agricultural region, on which it depends for its support. With the slack trade, due to the present low prices for farm products, there is not the incentive to rebuild that there would otherwise have been. Relief for the fire sufferers was sent out from this city last evening.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 15.—The Christian Endeavor convention adjourned last night. Two of the largest assemblages in its history filled Tomlinson hall at the afternoon and night sessions. Kirkpatrick of Kokomo was elected president.

PEKIN AGAIN SAFE FOR FOREIGNERS.

ASSURANCE RECEIVED IN WASHINGTON TODAY.

No Alarm Need Be Felt as to the Danger From Mobs, it is Declared—Further Details of the Riots—German Forces to Protect Traders in Chinese Ports.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Assurances have been received that there is no danger to foreign residents in Pekin. However a dispatch from Shanghai confirms the report that a rebellion broke out 100 miles from Hankow. The rebels are fairly armed and exceedingly reckless. They attacked the government buildings, which were feebly defended by loyal troops. The latter were soon defeated, and many of them were killed. Many others joined the rebels. Two mandarins were killed. The province is almost denuded of troops and the rebels are daily gathering strength. It is expected they will advance on Woo Chang, Province of Hon Pee, of which Hankow is the capital. The garrison at Woo Chang has gone to the coast, and the place therefore is practically defenseless.

Will Protect Europeans.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—Germany's refusal to interfere in the Chinese-Japanese trouble does not affect the question of the protection to Europeans in China, in which it will fully co-operate. The German commander in Chinese waters already has been authorized to dispatch a small body of marines to protect the legation at Pekin. If there should be any trouble it is believed the moral effect of even such a small body of European troops would effectually check a Chinese mob.

WHISKY FROM MOLASSES.

Anti-Trust Distillery Discovers a Cheap Method of Producing Spirits.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 15.—The Columbia Distilling company, the strongest enemy of the whisky trust, has made public the results of an experiment by which they produce a very fair quality of spirits from sugar beet molasses. The success of the distillation is more important from the fact that it will afford additional profit to the sugar manufacturers and cheapen the manufacture of whisky. The process was never tried before in this country, though it has been in use in Europe. The trust people claim it is no cheaper than the other process and is of little consequence.

ENDS IN FREE FIGHT.

Matthews to the secretary of the navy upon naval yard docks estimate the expenditures for the next fiscal year at $1,861,295, which is a reduction of the estimates submitted by the commandants of the yards of $5,846,820. The heaviest cut in these estimates is in the item of improvements, which is reduced from $6,221,712 to $1,044,803. The item for general maintenance is cut $157,000 and that for repairs $300,000.

RIVAL MAMMOTH CAVE.

Caverns Discovered by a Party of Prospectors.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 15.—A party of prospectors a short time ago discovered a series of caverns in the rocky sides of Cajon peak, a spur of the Cuyamaca range, the extent of which they are unable to ascertain, having no lights with them. Subsequently a party was organized for the purpose of exploring the caves, which were found to rival the Mammoth cave of Kentucky in interesting features, as well as in the size of the chambers. There are several external openings, from each of which a vertical access is made into a chamber with several lateral extensions to other chambers, some of gigantic size. The roofs and floors are brilliant with stalactites and stalagmites, and although the investigations were cursory it is apparent that a wonderful discovery has been made. Other passages leading in various directions into the heart of the mountain were traversed for a considerable distance, and several mineral springs of strong saline qualities were found. Steps are being taken to secure title to the land on which the entrances were found, which is still vested in the government. A company will be organized to thoroughly explore the caverns.

VESSELS TOSSED IN A STORM

Saturday's Storm Continued—Boats Take Shelter in Many Ports.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The schooner A. J. Mowry was towed into the harbor last night with her foremast and bowsprit carried away and leaking. Her crew report a terrible encounter with the storm, and say that all Saturday night they never expected to reach the shore alive. Other vessels had the same experience, but no wrecks are reported. The storms of last week from the westward reached a climax Saturday night in the heaviest gale experienced on the lakes since the storm of last May. The largest and best steamers that the lake ship yards have turned out with their powerful machinery were not able to breast the storm and were forced to turn and run for shelter. The storm was general on the four upper lakes, Lake Ontario seeming to have escaped the winds. Numberless narrow escapes from foundering and the dismantled condition in which many boats returned to port made marine men exceedingly anxious last night for the safety of other craft known to be on the lakes, and it is feared that some boats were not able to live in the seas long enough to run into the nearest harbor.

ALL KNOW UPHAM AS A SQUARE MAN

JANESVILLE TRAVELING MAN TALKS OF MARSHFIELD.

T. J. Salsman, a Witless of Incidents that Made Him an Enthusiastic Admirer of the Republican Candidate—Democrats Sign a Denial of Milwaukee Journal Slanders.

It isn't easy to make Janesville people believe stories against Major W. H. Upham. Too many know of the major and the fairness with which he treats his men.

"About a year ago I was in Major Upham's office in Marshfield," said T. J. Salsman. "A man came in and asked for work, saying that he had come from Eau Claire with his family and had no food. Upham questioned him a moment and then wrote him an order for ham, sugar, flour, etc. 'We don't need any more men,' said the major. 'We are working all we can use now.'"

"Nevertheless he gave the man a note to the foreman of the chair factory. The foreman read the note and said: 'Now what sense is there in Major Upham's sending you to me? I am working more men than I need now and have told him so, but he says to keep all I have as they must have food.'"

"The man brought this word back to Upham, and I supposed that would settle it, but Upham put on his hat and started down to the factory. 'Better give the man work of some kind, anyhow,' he said. 'We can't let his family suffer for want of food.'"

"Lumbermen around Marshfield remember these circumstances, and are not very guarded in expressing their opinion of democratic campaign lies. Another thing that they remember is that Upham voluntarily raised their wages ten per cent in 1892 without any demand being made. A man who will do that isn't much of an oppressor."

Democrats Make a Sturdy Protest. Dispatches from Marshfield show that Mr. Salsman is right about the attitude of Major Upham's neighbors. Marshfield people are thoroughly indignant because of the personal attacks of the Milwaukee Journal. This feeling is not confined to citizens of the same political complexion as Major Upham, but it is the sentiment of a large number of the most faithful democrats in Marshfield.

When the Wall organ printed a grape vine Centralia dispatch the other day, relating the blood-curdling details of how Major Upham had coerced his employees into a document, exonerating him from the little organ's charges, under a colossal pyramid of headlines, these Marshfield democrats got together and decided to indite a protest against this style of campaigning. The information for The Journal's grapevine communication was anonymously credited to "a citizen of Centralia." The Marshfield democrats decided to set forth their protest over their own signatures in the same columns as gave space to the assault on Major Upham. A letter was mailed to the Journal on Wednesday of this week by Dr. H. A. Lathrop.

Did Not Print the Protest.

The Marshfield democrats looked in vain for the letter in Thursday's edition. They looked on the first page, where they thought it would be displayed below screaming advertising type like that over the Centralia grapevine dispatch, but found it not, and the close perusal of the market page, the favorite depository for matter unfavorable to the cause, failed to reveal their protest. Dr. Lathrop then furnished the Milwaukee Sentinel's Marshfield correspondent with a copy of the communication. It is signed by twenty democrats, who, while they are loyal to their party, believe that if success is to be achieved in this campaign the result can be effected without an attack upon the personal character or business integrity of Major Upham, whom they assert has always been liberal, just and honest with his workmen. The communication should set at rest any doubts that have been caused in the public mind of the business uprightness of the republican candidate and the relations of the Upham company and its employees.

The Marshfield letter which the Milwaukee Journal suppressed because it exposed the falsity of its statements is as follows:

"MARSHFIELD, Wis., Oct. 10, 1894. TO THE EDITOR OF THE MILWAUKEE JOURNAL: DEAR SIR—Please to give this letter the same publicity in the columns of your valuable paper as you did the article dated Centralia, Wis., October 6, 1894.

"MARSHFIELD, Wis., Oct. 12, 1894—We, the undersigned, citizens of Marshfield, who are democrats because we believe the principles of democracy are right, and who feel a just pride in the record made by our present democratic governor and state officials, who have given us an honest, able, economical administration that should commend itself to every voter in the state, hereby enter our earnest protest against the policy of attacking the personal character and business integrity of the republican candidate for governor, W. H. Upham, of Marshfield. As a man and as a fellow-citizen, he has ever stood ready to help any and all who needed assistance, without regard to their religion, nationality or politics; excepting nothing in return, and asking nothing. In labor he has always been liberal, just and honest with his workmen, and any one of them with a real or fancied grievance against the Upham Manufacturing company can always lay the matter freely before Mr. Upham, and be certain of a satisfactory adjustment.

City Built Up By His Liberality.

"The city of Marshfield is essentially a city of homes, fully nine-tenths of its residents owning their own houses, such ownership in a great many instances having been made possible through the liberality of the Upham Manufacturing company in supplying material, and giving credit far in excess of any possible security that could be offered, and no one appreciates this fact more than do the present and past employees of the Upham Manufacturing company.

Cash or Credit Optional.

"Their credit coupon books have always had the same purchasing power as cash at their store, and at the same prices, and without any distinction whatever, any man to whom the company owed money being able to draw his balance in cash on the regular pay day; and whether he waited until that time or drew a portion in advance in the form of a coupon book was a matter entirely optional with himself; and we have yet to learn that an employer of labor is compelled to advance cash on wages not due until pay day, or that giving a man credit at his store in advance of his earnings he rightfully earns for himself the title of tyrant and oppressor of labor.

Don't Wish to Win By Lies.

"During the last four years the democratic party has administered the affairs of the state so honestly and economically that it can justly point with pride to its record; and we believe that the party will win in this campaign, not by publishing misstatements and falsehoods against the business methods or personal character of a man who is entitled to and enjoys the admiration, friendship and respect of his fellow citizens, but from advocating the principles of true democracy, of which every true democrat is proud, and for which every true democrat should honorably fight."

HORSE SCALPED HER BUT SAVED HER LIFE

MRS. MARY BROEGE HAS A REMARKABLE ESCAPE.

She is Knocked Down by a Runaway But the Frightened Animal Stops Instantly and Fatal Consequences Are Averted—Twenty-two Stitches Taken By a Surgeon.

Mrs. Mary Broege owes her life to the intelligence of a runaway horse. As it was she had her head laid open so that twenty-three stitches were required to close the gap.

Mrs. Broege is sixty years of age, and lives with her sons on North Bluff street, near St. Mary's avenue. Saturday evening the boys decided to haul in some corn stalks, not wishing to do any work on Sunday. As the wagon came down the hill a bundle of stalks rolled off, striking the horse on the back. He plunged forward at a dead run and made for the barn. Mrs. Broege was leaving the barn just as the horse dashed through the door.

She was struck with great force and probably received a blow from one of the iron-shod hoofs, as the cut on her head was about a foot in length, and almost tore the scalp from the head. The old lady was unconscious when she was carried into her home, and Dr. Joe B. Whiting was called to attend her. Besides the terrible cut on her head, she sustained some severe bruises on the body. She probably would not have escaped alive had not the horse shown great intelligence.

When he struck Mrs. Broege he stopped instantly and the boys ran up to find him standing over their mother's body, trembling from his run but hardly moving a hoof.

CHURCH SPLIT BY THE PROHIBS

Rev. G. H. Trevor's Refusal to Preach Third Party Doctrine Causes Dissension.

The faction in the Division street Methodist church at Fond du Lac opposed to the appointment of the Rev. G. W. Trevor, formerly of this city, as pastor have started a new church, to be known as the Prohibition Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. D. B. Cornell, who has been Methodist Congregationalist, Baptist and Populist will be the pastor and meetings will be held in the opera house. As the enterprise is entirely against the discipline of the church, it is probable that all those interested will be expelled from the church.

Rev. Sabin Halsey of this city is watching the outcome of the affair with especial interest he being called to Fond du Lac by Bishop Joyce a year ago to investigate the trouble. His report was not such as to lead the church authorities to give much support to the prohibition faction. Mr. Halsey is a strong temperance worker but has always insisted that a prohibition party faction was as much out of place in a church as a republican faction or a democratic faction.

FRIEND OF AMERICA WAS LOUIS PHILIPPE

THE LATE LOUIS PHILIPPE
FOUGHT FOR THE UNION.

He Remained in the Army a Year As Captain Under McClellan—In Battle
at Yorktown and Richmond—His War Record.

THE LATE LOUIS Philippe Albert d'Orleans was born in the Tulleries in Paris, Aug. 24, 1838. On the morning of Feb. 24, 1848, Louis Philippe, king of the French, hearing a fusillade before the gates of his palace, and fully aware that it "meant business," abdicated in favor of his grandson, the count of Paris. But this attempt to establish an Orleans dynasty was fruitless. A second revolution had been proclaimed in France and the widowed mother of the count of Paris and his younger brother were forced to flee from the country. They went to England, where the young count of Paris, whose full name and title were Louis Philippe Albert, duke of Orleans, was educated.

The especial interest which American readers will feel in connection with the dead count dates from Sept.

THE LATE LOUIS PHILIPPE.

13, 1861, when he landed on American soil. He had crossed the Atlantic in the old side-wheel steamer Africa, whose dock was in Jersey City, and as it was 10 p. m. when the vessel reached her wharf, he and his distinguished fellow travellers remained on board until the next morning. Imagine any Atlantic voyager with the price of a night's lodging in his pockets remaining aboard ship all night after making a landing as early as 10 p. m. in these days!

The fact is also worth commenting upon that the leading New York newspaper of that era devoted less than half a column's space to the landing of the royal party the following day, saying, among other things:

"A great number of persons assembled yesterday morning on the wharf of the Jersey side, but strictly conforming with the express wish of the Prince de Joinville, who headed the royal party, everything was got ready for leaving the Africa in the most private and unostentatious manner. The prince, accompanied by his young friends and suite, went over the side of the steamer and entered a rowboat, which took them to the foot of Chambers street, where carriages were in waiting to convey the party to the Brevoort House."

The party, whose arrival in New York city was thus summarily dismissed, consisted of the Prince de Joinville, his son, Pierre Philippe, Duc de Penthièvre, and his nephews, the Comte de Paris and the Duc de Chartres.

A genuine sensation was occasioned a few days later when it was known that they had applied for permission to enter the Union forces in the war of the rebellion, which was then raging, and been appointed to the rank of captains of the staff of Gen. George B. McClellan. The terms under which the count of Paris and his brother were received into the army stipulated that they should serve without pay and be privileged to resign whenever they saw fit. They served a little less than one full year, but during that time the count of Paris saw hard fighting at Yorktown and Richmond and formed impressions of American soldiery which aided him in writing, as it doubtless influenced him to write, his celebrated history of the civil war. Said Gen. James Grant Wilson in a paper which he prepared after the count's second visit to America: "While the active service of the youthful count as a staff officer with the rank of captain in the Army of the Potomac cannot, of course, for a moment be compared with that of the Marquis de Lafayette, a Major-

General in the Revolutionary army, where he held independent command and saw much hard fighting, it must not be forgotten that the former has devoted his leisure hours during fifteen years to the preparation of the most careful and important account of the American civil war which has yet appeared in print. It was chiefly, if not indeed entirely, in the interest of this monumental but incomplete magnum opus that the count came among us again for a month to visit Antietam, Gettysburg and other hotly contested battlefields of our late war."

As illustrating the growth of newspaper enterprise in New York, it is worthy of notice that the same newspaper which disposed of the arrival of the count of Paris in 1861 in less than half a column devoted an entire page to the subject of his second visit to New York on Oct. 3, 1890.

daughter of the Duc de Montpensier. She is celebrated for being an advanced woman. She smokes cigarettes, goes shooting, and wears knickerbockers.

In 1886 the Comte de Paris was exiled from France, having been unobtrusively intriguing for his restoration to the throne, for by the death of the Comte de Chambord, whom many have accused him of poisoning, he had become the only pretender to the royal throne. It was through the action of an officer, who owed his career to the kindness of the comte's uncle, the Duc d'Aumale, Gen. Boulanger, that the expulsion was brought about. He went to England, where he remained until death came to relieve him of his many humiliations and sorrows.

Circus Performer Burned to Death.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A traveling tent show owned by a man named Lind, was destroyed in White Plains last night by an explosion of gasoline, and one of the company, Miss Edna G. Hurlbert, was burned to death. The gasoline took fire from some unexplained cause and an explosion followed, filling the tent with flames. Lind escaped with his clothing ablaze and was taken to the office of Dr. Birch near by. His face, arms and legs were severely burned, but it is thought that he will recover. Miss Hurlbert was unable to get out.

Says the Highbinders Are After Him.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 15.—Yeung Seung, the Chinese interpreter, has appealed to the police for protection against the wrath of his countrymen. He was the informant against sixteen Chinamen who were recently fined $25 each for playing fan tan. He claims Chin Pon, a slayer for the highbinders, has been imported from Philadelphia to do away with him.

Another Diphtheria Scare Breaks Out.

NORTHFIELD, Minn., Oct. 15.—Another diphtheria scare has presented itself here, the residence of J. H. Lathrop having been quarantined. The entire number of scholars of Longfellow school, numbering 200, have been exposed.

To Prepare the Atchison Report.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The directors of the Atchison road have instructed Expert Little to prepare the annual report of the company, which it is thought will be ready for presentation at the stockholders' meeting to be held Oct. 25.

THE WORKING CHINESE.

They Leave Home to Make Money and Go Back to Enjoy It.

"I remember during our civil war," said a Mississippi planter, "hearing an old negro on my father's plantation say that the war was necessary because the people were getting too thick and the Lord would thin them out. I think this reason might be fully as appropriate in reference to the present Chinese and Japanese quarrel. Chinamen swarm not only in portions of our country, but wherever they can get a foothold. The cities in the East Indies are full of them. They are shop-keepers, farmers and particularly mechanics. Hardly a mechanic of any description can be found there who is not a Chinaman. Incessant and indefatigable workers, they save a competency, and sometimes large fortunes, and then return to China to live at their ease. Many well-to-do Chinamen go home before their youth is passed, and marrying, stay a short time and then return to their money-making, and, in many cases, their temporary and foreign wives. No respectable Chinese woman ever leaves her native land, for it is against the law, and even if their lives were not forfeited on their return, all social standing would be lost to them. On this account the Chinamen do not bring their wives with them, and though their sons that are born to them in foreign countries are brought up as Chinese, the daughters never go to China, but stay in the land of their birth."

SNAKE-KILLING IGUANAS.

These Large Lizards Make a Regular Job of Fighting Serpents.

"In South America," said a traveler recently, "snakes are very numerous. Perhaps the most notable of these snake-killers is the large lizard known as the iguana. The iguana is no mean adversary, as may be judged from the fact that dogs which attack one often come off with a broken leg. The lizard does not wait for the snake to take the offensive, but goes swiftly in pursuit, and being very rapid in its motions rarely has any difficulty in overtaking its victim, which it dispatches with blows from its powerful tail. I remember a funny experience I had with one of these lizards which clearly illustrated its hatred for snakes. I was riding with a friend in search of cattle. My lasso was attached to the saddle and the end trailed along the ground behind me.

"A big iguana lay in the sun apparently asleep. It paid no attention to my horse as it passed, but the next instant it raised its head and fixed its attention on the twenty feet of lasso slowly trailing by. Suddenly it rushed after the rope and dealt it a succession of violent blows with its tail. When the whole of the lasso, several yards of which had been dragged by the lizard, with uplifted head, continued to gaze after it with evident astonishment. Never before had such a wonderful snake crossed its path."

By a Simple Twist of the Wrist.

Three new members were added to the naval pay corps the other day after the good old fashion. One was the son of an admiral, another the son of an army captain and grandson of an admiral, and the third the son of an influential Tennesseean bearing a high military title. It is a tradition in the pay corps that there was once an attempt to establish the system of competitive examinations as preliminary to the choice of appointees, and one of the few men that have entered the corps in that fashion owns that he came up for examination in French and Spanish with the mere schoolboy rudimentary knowledge of the former and a good deal less of the latter. He came out near the head of the class, and a little judicious pressure upon his congressman eventually brought him his commission as assistant paymaster.

How They Got Skulls.

In one of his introductory lectures, in a recent semester, the late Professor Hyrtl addressed his hearers as follows: "Gentlemen, you must get possession of skulls. It is impossible to study anatomy unless you have skulls. Each of you must find means, any means, to get a skull." On the following morning he entered his auditorium with a sorrowful face, "Gentlemen," he began, "I fear some of you misunderstood me. You certainly have left no means untried to secure skulls. I noticed that my handsome collection was almost depleted this morning." The students had taken him at his word and induced the servants to divide out the skulls of Hyrtl, which formed one of the chief attractions to medical men in the famous teacher's house.

To Right the Wrong.

While the late Lord Coleridge was at Oxford, it was his duty as a fellow to read the lessons in chapel, and one day he read, by mistake, the second lesson where he should have read the first. To conclude it in the orthodox way was hardly correct, as it was not the second lesson, but the first; nor could it well be described as the first lesson, as properly it was the second. A moment's hesitation supplied him with the appropriate word: "Here endeth the wrong lesson."

An Ample Fund of Pleasure and Health may be derived from an ocean voyage and foreign travel. But before one gets one's "sea legs" on, the sailor says, the abominable ailments begotten of sea sickness, have usually to be gotten over. Delicate people suffer, of course, more than the robust from this ailment, but few sea travelers escape it. Against the frightful nausea it produces, Hostetter's stomach Bitters is a reliable defence, and is so esteemed by tourists, commercial travelers, yachtsmen and mariners. An ailment akin to sea sickness often afflicts land travelers with weak stomachs. This is often brought on by the jarring of a railway train. Disquietude in the gastric region from this cause is always remedied by the Bitters. It also prevents and cures chills and fever, indigestion, flatulency and kidney trouble, and purifies the blood.

JANESVILLE FOLKS NAMED BY Y.P.S.C.E.

FRANK A. SPOON IS STATE VICE PRESIDENT.

Miss Nettie Harrington of This City Made Superintendent of Junior Work—Bower City Delegates Return From Oshkosh Much Encouraged By the Outlook for 1895.

Frank A. Spoon and Miss E. May Clark, who went to Oshkosh as delegates to the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor convention, returned to-day. Mr. Spoon was chosen vice president for the Congregational church, and Miss Nettie Harrington, of Janesville, superintendent of junior work.

"It was one of the best state conventions the society ever had," said Mr. Spoon. "There were about seven hundred delegates, and considering that this is the first one where the delegates have paid for their entertainment, it shows that the young people of the state are in earnest about this matter. The strong points that were emphasized all through these meetings, were entire consecration, christian citizenship, and municipal reform—reform not by bringing our politics into our religion, but by taking our christian religion into politics, and supporting only men who will work for the best interest of our laws, regardless of party."

The sessions closed last night by three simultaneous meetings, one at the First Congregational, First Presbyterian and First Methodist.

The election of officers was Saturday afternoon. Mr. Liffingwell of Appleton was elected president. He is a business man and a manufacturer.

Ben H. Soper of Oshkosh is secretary and Miss Minnie E. Olmstead of Green Bay, treasurer.

Rev. J. L. M. Young spoke on Temperance in the Baptist church Sunday evening. His audience was a large one.

John Gowdey led the Y. M. C. A. meeting yesterday afternoon.

BORNE TO THE LAND OF REST.

Mrs. A. C. Bates.

After a life well spent and a painful illness patiently endured Mrs. A. C. Bates closed her eyes on this earth yesterday afternoon. While Mrs. Bates had been unwell for some time past, she was thought to be much better of late and it was only forty-eight hours before her death that her daughter, Mrs. E. L. Eaton of Milwaukee, had left her mother's bedside for her Cream City home, confident that with apparently renewed strength Mrs. Bates' lease of life had been substantially lengthened.

Mrs. Bates was born June 3, 1831 and had resided in Janesville for upwards of forty-five years. Her name and that of her late husband are, and always will be intimately connected with the development of Janesville, for they came when the town was young and saw, as well as helped to bring about its rise into prosperity and wealth. Mrs. Bates was one of the women who make the world better for their presence and one whose departure many will mourn. Five children survive her, they being Mrs. E. L. Eaton of Milwaukee, Miss Ina Bates and City Clerk George H. Bates of this city, E. E. Bates of Chicago and J. W. Bates of Beloit.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

THIRD ROBBERY OF HALL'S STORE Officers Have No Clue to the Men Who Did the Johnstown Job.

Officers have not found a clue to the burglars who robbed Frank D. Hall's Johnstown store. The men got nearly $100 worth of plunder.

"The burglars seemed somewhat puzzled at first," said Wallace Cochran, who went to Johnstown to investigate the matter. "They broke into a blacksmith shop near by and got a brace and chisel. The marks of the chisel on the window casing indicates that they made three attempts to raise the window before they discovered that by taking off two small cleats the top sash could be lowered. The cleats were removed and the top sash was thus lowered and the burglars found an easy way into the store. The safe was not locked, consequently they did not use the brace. They secured a gold watch, $20 in postage stamps, $25 in 10 cent pieces and $10 in nickles. Four or five dollars in pennies were not taken, although the packages were torn open. At the blacksmith shop the thieves took pains to place a heavy sledge hammer near the window so that they could get it if needed to work the safe. The window through which they entered the store is in the front on the north side, in full view. The man on watch could see both ways and give warning of the approach of anyone."

This is the third time Mr. Hall's store has been burglarized this summer. The first time the thieves secured considerable plunder, carrying it off in wagons; the second time they secured considerable money, and this time $55 in money, and the watch.

PAVING BLOCKS COME AT LAST.

Contractor Curtis Closing Up the Gap on Milwaukee Street.

Contractor M. H. Curtis received some of the long delayed cedar blocks this morning and at once began closing up the gap in the West Milwaukee street paving at the corner of High street. The street railway company are also at work putting the corks in place between the rails and the street will soon be open again. That work is a great improvement to the part of the town and was very much needed.

The Early Closing of Stores.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—The article in Saturday evening's Gazette, from A. F. Hall & Co. relative to the early closing of business houses, has our hearty endorsement, and does credit to the writer for the sentiment expressed regarding the hours spent behind the counter, which should be, with the present arrangement, long enough to satisfy the most tireless worker.

As regards the trading done by farmers in the evening we have always found that farmers as well as the people in town, prefer to do their trading during the day, and that with the exception of harvest time, farmers very seldom visit the city to do trading after 6 o'clock. Should they wish to do so, the two evenings, Wednesday and Saturday, on which all the stores are open, offer all the opportunity necessary. ARCHIE REID & Co.

Why Should We Charge $4?

Just because no other shoe house in the city can furnish as good a lady's shoe for less than $4, is no reason why we should ask $1. No, we make a fair profit at $3 a pair and have our store full of customers all the time. The grandest bargains in the shoe line ever shown in Janesville.

DEATH IS THE CURE THAT PARR CHOSE

AGED EDGERTON MAN COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Presumably Despondent Over Some Business Matters He Ended it all By Jumping in the River From the Railroad Bridge—Had Been Missing Since Friday.

Cold in death, the body of William Parr, an aged resident of Edgerton was found in the river south of the Edgerton railroad bridge last evening. Mr. Parr, who is the father of Royal Parr of the Edgerton brick yard, disappeared from home Friday night and while the disappearance had been kept quiet, searching parties had been looking for him ever since. No trace of him had been found until the body was discovered. It is supposed that Parr committed suicide by jumping into the river from the railroad bridge and that the current carried the body to the spot where it was found. He could not have fallen from the bridge as a railing three feet high is built across on both sides. His mental faculties were said to be unimpaired but it is thought that he became despondent and while laboring under the depression ended his life. He was in the neighborhood of seventy-five years of age and had been a resident of Edgerton for about ten years. A son, Royal Parr survives him. Mr. Parr came from England with a colony in 1873. No cause, other than possible despondency can be set forth for his self destruction.

HUMOROUS HITS.

Wouldn't Use False Keys.

The notion that alcohol may do good because, for a moment, it seems to be good was well answered by a physician's response to a man who was somewhat too much given to the pleasures of the table. This man had said to the doctor:

"What do you think of the influence of alcohol on the digestion, doctor?"

"I think that its influence is bad," said the physician.

"But a little whisky taken just before a meal is the only key that will open my appetite, doctor."

"I don't believe in opening things with false keys, sir!" answered the other.

This response was particularly applicable, for a falsely stimulated appetite is a sure prelude to indigestion.—Youth's Companion.

Killed Just in Time.

A husband who had been out shooting, but who had not been successful, rather than return home empty-handed stepped into a shop and purchased a hare. "There, my ducky," he said to his wife on returning home, "you see I am not so awkward with the gun after all."

"Let me see." "Isn't he a fine fellow?" "My dear," said the wife, as she carried the animal to her nostrils, and put it down with a grimace, "you were quite right in killing him to-day; tomorrow it would have been too late."—French Exchange.

Too Free for Him.

"You want to be a candidate?" "I do." "I favor of free government?" "I am." "Free schools?" "Of course." "Free railroads?" "I guess so." "Free money?" "Oh, yes!" "Free speech at home and abroad?" "Look here, my friend! You don't know my family. Lend me a quarter and I'll get out of the race!"—Atlanta Constitution.

None in Stock.

The beggar faltered at the door. "Have you the heart to refuse me?" he pleaded.

"No." "As the butcher spoke the dull expression of despair that had settled upon the countenance of the mendicant was lightened.

"We ran out of heart more than an hour ago."

When he had finished, the dull expression of despair was doing business at the same old stand.—Detroit Tribune.

COLLECTOR OF BUTTONS.

Mrs. Mary E. Harris Has a Queer Pastime.

Mrs. Mary E. Harris of Roxbury, Mass., has had for thirty years the hobby of collecting buttons, until now her collection numbers 12,000 different kinds. Thirty years ago she made a wager that they were more than 999 different kinds of buttons. She reached the thousand mark inside of a year, but once started in the fascinations of "collecting," her pursuit was kept up. Mrs. Harris has some interesting buttons in her collection. One was worn by a soldier in Napoleon's army; another by a soldier in Washington's; there are buttons from the uniforms of half a dozen European armies, as well as from those of the South American republics, the Confederate army and the uniforms furnished by different states during the civil war.

A Successful Woman Farmer.

Miss Mary E. Cutler of Holliston, Mass., is a successful farmer. She is sole manager of Winthrop Gardens, an estate of sixty-eight acres, after her father's death ten years ago. She determined to carry on the farm against the advice of friends, who thought it impossible for a woman to make a business success of agriculture. Proceeding carefully, the business has constantly increased under her direction. She gives her attention chiefly to the raising of fruits and vegetables, which are sold directly to the consumer, the surplus going to the canneries. She has 1,400 bearing peach trees, and has not had a failure of the crop for seven years.

OUR POLICY.

When we opened our store it was with the fixed determination to use every effort to get together only goods of the most reliable quality and distribute them at the lowest consistent prices—to bring our customers as near the first cost of production as possible by doing away with the profits of immediate dealers. This we have done through our superior facilities. From this policy we have never swerved nor wavered, and those who deal with us realize that as we added each new department they have been enabled to buy the goods lower than ever before, because our first aim has been to get prices down to a legitimate basis and the assortments larger and more complete than any other. Our store is three hundred and sixty-five times better than it was a year ago, every day has been devoted to improving our stocks, our system and our service, and every day will continue to be devoted to improving. We never under any circumstances make exaggerated statements, and our advertisements are always fully sustained by the goods shown—a fact easily verified by investigating those offered to-day.

For your lost appetite. All know that it is a valuable piece of personal property, but why go to the expense when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will restore it to you. A course of that unparallel tonic and corrective not only induces a return of the flesh for food, but confers upon the stomach the power to graze appetite with unpleasant sensations afterward. For the purpose of quickening digestion, arousing a dormant liver or kidneys, and establishing regularity of the bowels, no medicine can exceed this great family cordial in value. The pure alochol-pri-ciple is modified by blending with it botanic elements of the highest efficacy. Avoid the fiery unalloyed stimulants of commerce as a means of overcoming inactivity of any of the organs above mentioned, and use, instead, the Bitters. This professionally sanctioned medicine remedies malarial and rheumatic ailments.

Kill Him.

That was the decision in the Prendergast case of the assassination of Mayor Harrison of Chicago. That is your verdict in regard to your hair providing you do not take care of it. If your hair has already fallen out and your head is bald you should consult some one at once who makes a specialty of the hair. The only family cordial in value. The pure alochol-pri-ciple is modified by blending with it botanic elements of the highest efficacy. Avoid the fiery unalloyed stimulants of commerce as a means of overcoming inactivity of any of the organs above mentioned, and use, instead, the Bitters.
